STOCKS, BONDS, AND MONEY LIPSCOMB'S CASE President Will Have

I [Quotations furnished by Charles G. Gates & Co., Munsey Building; Members New York Stock Exchange.]

Fluctuating Tendency Was Noted Throughout the Entire Session.

NEW YORK, March 12.-The stock market opened at a general advance. St. Paul started 11/2 higher. New York Central, Northern Pacific, and Canadian Pacific gained %; Colorado Fuel %, and Reading, 1; Steel preferred, 1. Atchison gained 1%, Union Pacific %, and Amalgamated %

11a. m.-The market was called busiesslike and strong, and it was general comment that the tone was better than has been on any rally since the be-156½ to 155%, and then rose 1%. Nearly everything on the list moved about the Government bonds unchanged; other Government bonds unchanged; other bonds steady.

Noon—The market after the first hour continued quite strong, with a large part of the improvement due to London operations. There was general covering of shorts around the room, helping along the upward movement. At midday the majority of stocks traded in were selling at the high range reached, but in a few issues, including Reading, a fractional reaction was noted.

The Treasury has purchased 100,000 ounces of silver at 69.43 cents per ounce for New Orleans.

The members of the New York Cotton Exchange have voted to suspend business on Good Friday, March 29, and the day following.

Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the stock, payable April 15.

Net earnings of the rallroads are threatened with shrinkage, which is not a cheering factor in a market which wants a good rally to encourage it.

From 1863 to March 1, 1997, national banks to the number of 8,571 have been chartered, of which 1,778 were closed by voluntary liquidation and 448 by failure, leaving in active operation 74.04 per cent of the total number chartered.

Mr. Harriman will have an interview with the President of the United States on Thursday, it is said, and Wall Street is somewhat anxious about the particulars. Fears are entereained that no stenographic report will be given out.

The United States Steel Corporation. Which has purchased a large tract of land at Superior. Wis., to build piers, etc., has a committee of officials there to look over the ground preparatory to starting building operations. The plant will cost $1,500,000 or more.

It is regarded as somewhat remarkable that, in view of the heavy liquidation that has taken place in the stock market, none of the houses in Wall Street have been reported as in trouble. Customers have come up with their margins more than fairly well, and fluctuations have not been wild enough, save in one or two instances, to cause particular uneasiness.

CUTS WOMAN WITH KNIFE

George Honesty, colored, was George Honesty, colored, was sentenced this morning to six months in jail for assaulting Hatty Lewis, before Judge Mullowny. It was claimed that Honesty had attempted to carve Hatty with a penknife, beginning with the neck, and objecting to being the subject of a vivisection she called on the police for protection. In imposing sentence Judge Mullowny impressed upon Honesty the fact that it was the best policy not to carry a knife.

No one could complain of not having their orders filled on the local exchange today. Stocks were there in plentiful supply, and brokers had evidently been given discretionary orders about selling. As they saw the market it looked wise to furnish any reasonable bid made with the natural conveyance that prices took a further slump. This was most marked in Washington Rallway preferred, which fell away one and onee-half points which fell away one and onee-half points from the last sale, while the common was also under pressure and lost a good fraction. Mergenthaler was ladled out with a free hand and all comers were supplied at 212, which seemed to be the fixed price. iMtchell Mining slipped a fraction and the ent'usiastic buying of yesterday was lacking. Capital Traction in the vernacular of the market, was "steady but hardly firm." The only stock that kept a good front was Washington Gas, which never wavered, but sold repeatedly at 57%, and would have brought 60 on options. Bank and insurance stocks were neglected, while the bond list was also free from excitement. Directors of Riggs Bank have decleared an extra dividend of 4 per cent in addition to the regular 10 per cent payable April 15, and have carried $109, 600 to the surplus fund, making that amount $1,400,000. Last year the bank paid an extra of 2 per cent only.

Griffin Halstead was back at his regular place today, after nearly two weeks' absence in Cincinnati, where he went to attend the golden anniversary of his parents' wedding. He got into the fray at once, but showed the effects of his absence by slight over-enthusiasm in the bidding.

Practically the same number of shares was traded in today that got on the record yesterday. The evil influences of a bad New York market are asserting themselves in local conditions.

Hears Them All Politely.

"Then there was the experience of the rate law. The financiers came to Washington—Cassatt, Mellen and the rest of them—and labored with the President, to dissuade him from rushing blindly into the fight for legislation. He heard them all politely enough—and the while was fixing up his deal with Cannon which made the legislation possible. There is no record of a case in which the President has been diverted from his purpose of antagonizing the big interests by their pleas with him. The packers and their representatives tried hard to call him off by showing that he would ruin the foreign meat trade, but it seemed only to redouble his determination to win."

That is why officialdom does not expect that much will result from the approaching visits of the rallroad managers. The President tried to get Congress to pass, at the recent session, the LaFollette measure ordering the Interstate Commission to make a scientific valuation of the railroad properties of the country. A tremendous opposition at once developed. The President did not make it one of the cardinal tests of the session, to the disappointment of some who had hoped he would force it. But the reason has since become plain. He has been looking into the matter, and is said to be of opinion that he doesn't need a law; he can direct the commission to make the valuation, and it has the means and the power to go abond and moke it. This is

York.

Just before the train pulled out, he dictated the following statement:

"At the request of many business men, before leaving for Europe, I came to Washington to see the President to discuss the present business situation, particularly as affecting the railroads. I suggested to the President that it would be greatly in the public interest if he would see Mr. McCrea, Mr. Newman, Mr. Mellen, and Mr. Hughitt, and confer with them as to what steps might be taken to allay the public anxlety, as to the relations between the railroad and the Government. The President said he would be glad to see the gentlemen named, with this object in view."

Morgan's appearance on the scene is the climax to a series of visitations to Washington by railroad and other capitalists, who have apparently shared "the public anxiety as to the relations between the railroads and the Government," to which Mr. Morgan refers in his statement.

The most distinguished previous visitor was E. H. Harriman, who, in his numerous interviews with the newspapermen and the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, voiced the sentiments of Mr. Morgan: that time has come for co-operation between the Government and railroads in the settlement of questions now agitating the public.
